The past few weeks have been hit and miss for our team boys. For the positive we've had many new skills learned and incorporated into several excellent routines during workouts as shown in videos posted. For the negative we've had some attendance issues due to vacations & sicknesses. For the meet today we had one out due to injury and one out due to sickness. The remaining gymnasts had some awesome moments on some events getting to show off their new skills/routines, which was really cool! :) However, since so few of them hit 6 for 6 today it was frustrating - especially when mistakes happened that were simply nerves/focus issues. Sure, it's early in the season, & it was the first meet for some, but based on how they did at gym,...it was disappointing. They know they can do better. Obviously, they will be working weak point training both physically and mentally, & we wish the sick/injured speedy recoveries. The next cycle of training is being planned now. Looking forward to much improvement from today at the next meet.

STAY FOCUSED AND KEEP WORKING HARD TOWARDS YOUR GOALS!!!
